

UTS
CATHOLIC
CHAPLAINCY
UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY

A Lunchtime Forum with

Dr Jojo Fung sj

Director of Centre for Orang Asli (Indigenous Peoples), and in ministry of ecumenism and interreligious dialogue in Malaysia

SPIRITUAL TRADITIONS AND PEACE MAKING

The challenge of our time is to find a non-violent spirituality that crosses the boundaries of religious traditions and diverse cultures. Jojo Fung will explore the ways various traditions contribute and pose dangers to this project. Can world cultures and religions work together for peace? What role can Indigenous traditions play? What are the hopes, possibilities and dangers of this diversity? Jojo's experience in Indigenous, Christian and Muslim Malaysia and widespread experience throughout Asia will provide a valuable window into some of these complexities.

Date: Friday May 25

Time: 1 - 2pm

Venue: University of Technology
Room 2.4.29

Enter via main entrance on Broadway

All Welcome - Free

Information: Peter Maher: 9557 3197

Email: uts.chaplaincy@uts.edu.au

Sponsored by UTS Catholic chaplaincy and UCSM (UTS Catholic Student Movement).